

Dana Byron-Director of Volunteer Services

With 9 years of previous non-profit management experience, Dana Byron took on the role of Volunteer Coordinator with Habitat for Humanity, Kansas City in March of 2004. Since then she has brought in thousands of volunteers and the volunteer department has expanded with Dana becoming the Director.

Prior to employment with Habitat, Dana served as the Director of Member Relations and NPO Technologies with The Surplus Exchange for 9 years. Serving in this role gave her the opportunity to build relationships with hundreds of not-for-profit organizations around the greater Kansas City area. Dana also worked as a Licensed Practical Nurse for several years.
